

Adolescent Development

30-CE Hours 4 Days March 12, 13, 14, 15, 2024 $399.00

8am to 5pm Each Day On-Line Via Zoom

This training has been designed to meet MN Statutes 245G and 2960 requirements as well as LADC diversity requirements.

Recognizing and understanding an adolescent's stage of emotional, physical and social development is essential in order to establish client rapport while delivering appropriate and effective services. This training provides current as well as practical solutions, strategies and hands-on tools for the behavioral health professional working with adolescents.

As a result of this training, participants will be able to:

Recognize the biopsychosocial dynamics of adolescent development.

Identify current developmental stages and related developmental issues.

Describe coexisting factors that may impact adolescent development.

Topics Will Include:

Development Theory, Co-Factors Affecting Adolescent Development, Mental Health, Substance Use and Abuse, Adolescent Sexuality and Effective Treatment Approaches for Adolescent Clients.

Pre-registration and pre-payment is required. Registration closes 3/11/24
Zoom links and materials downloads will be e-mailed prior to the first day of training. Participants needing materials in alternate formats should contact EDENS GROUP no later than 10 business days before the training.
